We offer a catered chalet service in the winter and self catering in the summer, both with daily housekeeping.

The catered service includes a breakfast of a range of breads, yoghurts, cereals, eggs and juices. In the evening we offer canapes with drinks, followed by a three/four course dinner with a choice of excellent Swiss wines selected from the cellars of the Michelin restaurant (Waldhotel Fletschhorn).

Our chef has one day off a week and can give you suggestions of where you can eat out - there are over 60 restaurants of all types and prices so there's something for everyone, from local traditional mountain food to Michelin restaurants.

Let us know if you have any dietary requirements when you book and we will do our utmost to accommodate your preferences.

About Saas-Fee

Saas-Fee 'The Pearl of the Alps', is an ancient village in a superb high-altitude setting surrounded by 13 4,000-metre snow capped peaks, including the highest mountain in Switzerland, the Dom (4,545m), forming a dramatic and unique backdrop.

At an altitude of 1800m, with skiing up to 3500m, Saas Fee is one of the most snow-sure resorts in the Alps with over 140km of skiing in the valley and a modern lift system - plus awesome views. Blackened chalets interspersed with modern hotels, fashion boutiques and ski shops line its narrow car-free streets.

Year-round skiing

Its high altitude allows skiing on the glacier from the beginning of July through to the start of the winter season in November and the season goes on until the end of April.

Check out the web site www.saasfee.ch for more info, latest news, snow reports and other winter action.

How to get there

By Air

Geneva, Zurich, Berne and Milan Malpensa are all within reasonable distance of Saas Fee. The main airlines are:

- British Airways (www.ba.com)
- Air France (www.airfrance.com)
- Easyjet (www.easyjet.co.uk)
- Swiss (www.swiss.com)
- Flybe (www.flybe.com)
- Swiss Travel Service (www.stc.co.uk)

Onward travel from any of these airports can be by train or car. One of the most relaxed ways is by train, and the Swiss public transport system is well known for its reliability, which we can attest to! See trains for more information.

By Car

Driving from Calais takes around 9 hours, and is motorway apart from 130km. On arrival, you leave your car in the covered car park at the entrance to Saas Fee - there is a small local charge. From there it is a few minutes walk to the chalet or you can call a local electric taxi.

By Train

One of the most relaxed ways to travel to Saas Fee is by train. Trains go from Geneva airport and Zurich airport, onto Visp where local Post buses (yellow buses) take you up to Saas Fee.

A ticket bought in the UK from the Swiss Travel Centre gives you a special tourist rate you can't buy on arrival, so best to book ahead. The new Lotschberg Tunnel under the Alps will speed up transfers from Zurich, with more frequent bus transfers as well. The Geneva train takes 2½ hours and from Zurich it takes 2¼ hours to Visp. You can then take a local bus or taxi to Saas Fee, where we will arrange a taxi to pick you up and take you to the Chalet.
